

the Ralph site

pet loss support

Free to use, not for profit support service

the Ralph site
pet loss support

home forum euthanasia grief emotions and management in memory of pet loss support
pet bereavement counselling favourite quotes and poems pet crematoria and cemeteries a new friend useful links

The Ralph Site is a not-for-profit organisation Click here to make a donation so we can continue to support others in their time of need.

Facebook Twitter

>Welcome to the Ralph site

The Ralph site is a not-for-profit website that provides support to pet owners around the loss of a beloved companion. The website is free to use and includes:

- Information on bereavement and grief management
- Advice on euthanasia and aftercare options
- Online memorials
- A discussion forum
- Links to pet crematoria and cemeteries
- Links to pet bereavement counsellors and counselling training
- Information about finding a new furry friend

Much of the content can be downloaded as PDFs and printed - look out for the download icons at the bottom of the relevant pages.

The Ralph site was set up by Shailen Jasani (MA VetMB MRCVS DipACVIM) following the loss of his beloved cat, Ralph, following a motor vehicle accident in November 2005. The site is dedicated to all the animals that have touched and continue to touch our hearts.

"...love knows not its own depth until the loss"

Like Tweet 3 Share 1

Memorials

In this section you will find an honour roll for all of our beloved companions listed in alphabetical order by first name. Please click through the letters to see the memorials that have already been added.

Ralph

Ralph came in to the vet hospital where I was working as a stray following a road traffic accident. I adopted him (a familiar story!) and for 2.5 years he was a great companion; gorgeous, adorable, affectionate and a toilet brush for a tail! Sadly Ralph met with another accident and this time he did not survive. This site was my way of acknowledging his importance and providing a place for others like me to express their love and grief. "Death ends a life, not a relationship." RIP my little man.

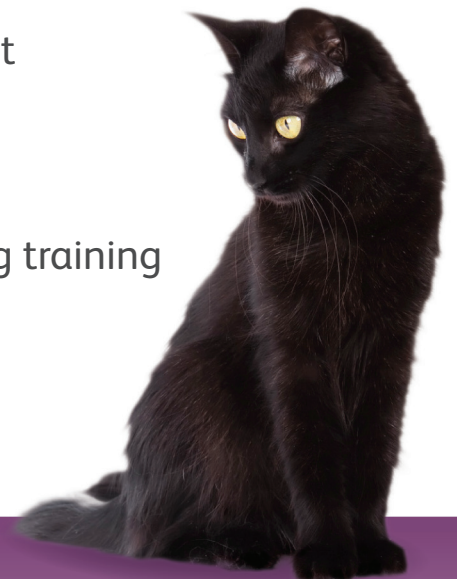

<< Back to memorials page

01/04/05 - 17/11/10

The Ralph Site is a not-for-profit website set up by a vet that provides support to pet owners around the loss of a beloved companion. The website is free to use and includes:

- Information on bereavement and grief management
- Advice on euthanasia and aftercare options
- Online memorials
- A discussion forum
- Links to pet bereavement counsellors and counselling training
- Links to pet crematoria and cemeteries
- Information about finding a new furry friend

Please email info@theralphsite.com for further information or to make comments and suggestions.

www.theralphsite.com